Due to careful evaluation of the manuscripts and valuable know-how of the Editorial Board, referees and contributors you will notice that scientific value and impact of our journal has become visible. This work of the Editors has increased the rejection rate of the journal from 36% to 65% which has reached to International Journals with high impact factor.

Our aim is to publish top quality manuscripts which have significant contributions to the scientific literature. The web page of the journal has undergone extensive revision and the new "Instructions for Authors" has been published. Please read the instructions carefully so that the evaluation process of your manuscripts will not delay unnecessarily. Our web page will be more interactive in the near future which will also have interactive education headings such as video description of operative techniques, providing national reference code for randomized controlled trials and discussion of research topic and statistical methods before starting a project. The other ideal for us is to provide a ground for multicenter studies and even a central server for those studies that will be published in our journal.

All these activities are aiming to provide an area of knowledge sharing, standardization and improvement of patient care and skills of care providers in the field by experts. If anybody would like to participate in these activities please write a letter to the Editor in Chief with your CV and H and I index.

Best Wishes.
