

PREFACE

Distinguished Colleagues,

It is an honor as well as a pleasure for me to publish the supplement of E-Journal of Cardiovascular Medicine (EJCM) dedicating to the abstracts of the Symposium of Peripheral Arterial Endovascular Interventions which was held by International Academia of Vascular and Endovascular Surgery (IAVES) on 15th December 2018 in Ankara.

IAVES is an official organ of Heart and Health Foundation of Turkey. Board of Directors of IAVES has been assigned by the Board of Trustees of HHFT amongst the well known experienced vascular and endovascular surgeons of Eastern Mediterranean area. The task of IAVES Board of Directors is arranging the vascular and endovascular scientific program in the 15th International Congress of Update in Cardiology and Cardiovascular Surgery, which will be held between 27-30 March 2019 in Antalya, Turkey. Additionally IAVES Board of Directors will be arranging International Scientific Trials. One of the important tasks of IAVES Board of Directors is to arrange Regional Additional Meetings all the year round.

E-Journal of Cardiovascular Medicine (EJCM) is an evolving and one of the most popular international regular electronic journal in the field of CV medicine that published quarterly.

We are happy to announce that all abstracts and issues of EJCM can be reached and printed free at www.ejcvsmmed.com from all over the world.

We look forward to receive the full manuscript of these abstracts to get it published at EJCM after an assessment of peer reviewers.

I would like to thank cordially once again to the IAVES Board of Directors for the kind contributions to the organization of Symposium of Peripheral Arterial Endovascular Interventions.

Best Regards,

Öztekin Oto, MD, FESC, FACC

Editor in Chief, E-Journal of Cardiovascular Medicine

President Heart and Health Foundation of Turkey

Past President, European Society of Cardiovascular and Endovascular Surgery